Course Description

Insures understanding of traditional course content and additionally develops analytic and problem solving skills. Provides personalized instruction and small group study sessions. In most classes, students will work on precalculus problems in a group setting and present problems to the class. We will attempt to cover problems and materials that are included in MATH 004 and MATH 005 to help reinforce the concepts that are covered in the courses.

Grading

The course is graded Satisfactory (S) or No Credit (NC). The grade will be determined by attendance, participation in group work and presented problems. Problems will be turned in at the end of the discussion section.
