

UPDATED GENERAL INFORMATION — FEBRUARY 28, 2017

Postponement of the third quiz

The third quiz will take place on Thursday, March 9, and it will involve Jordan form as in Chapter 8 of the text. Further information will be forthcoming.

The third examination

There is no change to the scheduling, but as stated in class it will almost entirely cover material not covered on the previous two examinations. This should be qualified in the usual way for mathematics examinations: There is likely to be some material which requires understanding of key topics from the earlier part(s) of the course.
