

Dividing seven loaves of bread into ten equal shares.

Each person receives $7/10$ of a loaf in two pieces, one of which is half a loaf and another of which is a fifth of a loaf. This requires fewer cuts than giving each person ten slices, each of which is $1/10$ of a loaf.